

Adam is the Developments Manager at Small Giants, a Melbourne-based company to supports, invests and engages with social enterprises. Adam is principally responsible for The Commons, as Development/Project Manager. He has recently completed the project management of a similar sized mixed use development in Victoria Street, Seddon. Adam has a background in property and environmental lawyer, who has previously been employed in private practice at Ashurst and as in-house environmental lawyer for The Shell Company of Australia. Adam is currently undertaking a Master of Business (Property) at RMIT.