

Prof. Andy van den Dobbelsteen

Visiting Fellow
Melbourne Sustainable Society Institute
The University of Melbourne

Andy van den Dobbelsteen is a full professor of Climate Design & Sustainability, at the Faculty of Architecture of the Delft University of Technology, the Netherlands. He coordinates the Green Building Innovation research programme and is expert author of the Dutch website on sustainable construction. In the past he chaired the advisory committee of the Dutch Green Building Council.

Andy lectures nationally and internationally and leads various research projects in the area of sustainability in the built environment.

Andy currently is a visiting fellow at the Melbourne Sustainable Society Institute (MSSI).